Printing Options with a Macro
WordPerfect Magazine
By James W. Martin

The included macro PRINT.WPM will print either the full document or just one page, depending on which option you choose when the macro is invoked.

To use the macro, press Macro (Alt-F10), type "print" and press (Enter). You'll be prompted to either print the entire document or just one page. If you choose the former, the entire document prints and the macro quits. If you choose to print a page, you'll be prompted to place the cursor on the page to print and press (Enter). That page will print and the macro will quit.
